Tools required for installation, socket sizes & whatnot.

- Light Source
- Pry Tool
- Flathead Screwdriver
- 10mm Wrench/Socket
- Needle Nose Pliers

Skill Level: 2

Time Investment: 1-2 hours

Step 1: Open the back tailgate and use your pry tool to remove the inner panel.

Step 2: Disconnect the two connections to the panel. Push the locking tab over to disengage the connection.

Step 3: You can now see the connector for the backup camera. Look for the two green wires. This is a strong indicator you are pre-wired for backup camera.

Note: The presence of the two green wires does NOT mean you're pre-wired. It just means it's a higher probability.

Step 4: There are four black 10mm nuts on each taillight that need to be removed.

Step 5: There are eight silver 10mm nuts between the taillights that need to be removed as they're holding the exterior panel on.

Step 6: There are two push clips that need to be removed by both taillights.

Step 7: Disconnect both taillights, remove them and place them carefully off to the side.

Note: Pull the red locking tab to unlock the connector, it will pull free after that.

Step 8: You can now push in the tab on the inner part of the taillight to release the taillight.

Note: Sometimes you need to use a pry tool on the outer edge of the taillight after pushing the tab in to get the taillight to release.

Step 9: Time to remove the factory panel from the rear of the vehicle. Use some needle nose pliers to pinch the white tab that is left holding the panel in place.

Step 10: Remove the rubber grommet and pull the factory harness through that you had unplugged earlier on Step 3.

Step 11: Take the new camera panel, slide in the white connector in the hold you just pulled the old one out of, push till you hear the small white clip snap into place.

Note: Make sure rubber grommet is securely in place to avoid any leaks.

Step 12: Make the connection for the rear view camera.

Note: If you aren't 100% you are pre-wired. Now is the time to use the genie and check if the camera is working. Skip to Step 20.

Step 13: Install the taillights back into place.
You'll hear them click into place.

Step 14: Make the two connections to the taillights.

Note: Remember to put the red locking tab down once the taillight is plugged in.

Step 15: Install the four black 10mm nuts on each taillight.

Step 16: Push in the two push clips by each taillight.

Step 17: Install the eight silver 10mm nuts between the taillights.

Step 18: Now take your rear trim panel for the tailgate and plug in the two connections.

Step 19: Push the rear trim panel into place. You'll hear its clips engage.

Note: Work your way around the rear trim panel's edges to engage all clips.

Step 20: It's time to use the genie to program the vehicle for the new upgrade.

I. Put vehicle into the run position.

II. Wait 1 minute after putting the vehicle into run to plug in the genie programmer.

III. The genie once plugged in will flash blue as it tries to program.

IV. The genie will turn a solid green light once programming was completed successfully, programming can take 1-3 minutes long.

V. Remove the genie and give the vehicle a sleep cycle.

VI. Test out your new upgrade.

VII. Enjoy!

Step 21: Enjoy your purchase and again thank you for choosing Infotainment.com for your upgrades.
